IMPROVED LOCK .- We have been shown a patent cylindrical Night-Lock,' for street doors, which is a great improvement on any former article in this line. It cannot be picked with a skeleton key, nor opened by another key out of the same package, or differing from it, however slightly. The principle is applicable and to be applied to all keys. The lock is made cheap by Day, Newell and Day, and is exhibited at the HAYDEN'S PENS .- We have received from Messrs. Wood & Folger, 219 Pearl-st. five (out of twenty) varieties of Steel Pens, manufactured by J. Hayden, Massachusetts. We have a liking for Gillott's; but we shall try these, and if they do good service, we shall say so, and cleave to the Yankee article in preference to the imported.

DENTISTRY .- The progress which has been made in the science of dentistry in this country of late years, has attracted much attention, and been noticed at length in the leading medical periodicals. That the science is better understood in this country than in any other, there cannot be a doubt.—
An American dentist, Dr. Brewster, recently established himself in Paris; where his skilful operations and professional abilities generally, have been publicly acknowledged by the Academy of Surgical Science. In our own city no one stands higher in his profession than Dr. Crane, No. 5 Park place, who has recently performed some difficult Dental operations with extraordinary success. Dr. Crane has invented a large number of new and valuable instruments, which greatly facilitate him in his practice, and produce but little pain in the person operated upon. In this respect alone, we believe he has no rival in this country; certainly, we never knew a professional man possessed of a higher degree of mechanical genius, as is shown by his splendid case of instruments. made wholly by himself, and valued at over $2,000. For ex tracting teeth, the Doctor has no less than fifty different instraments; by which he is enabled to suit every circum-tance of the case, with little or no pain to the patients. We have known Dr. C. for many years as one of the most learned and skilful practitioners, and where so many empyries are to be met as in all large cities, we conceive it a public duty to mention those upon whose scientific knowledge full confidence may be placed. We are happy to know that Dr. Crane has secured a very extensive practice. What is here said of Dr. J. W. Crane, we are able and happy fully to endorse, on the strength of some years experience of his professional skill. We know him to be no carpenter, coachmaker or saddler by original profession, but a complete Dentist, with a thorough medical education. He is eminently worthy of the high consideration and generous patronage he enjoys.

Pendulum Clock.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE'S FAIR .- Having visited the Fair of the American Institute at Niblo's Garden, my atten tion was called to one of the most unparalleled improvements of the age, to which I would direct the particular attention of visiters. It is Crane's Patent Twelve Month Clock, and large time-piece for Banks, &c. They are beautiful, well finished articles, and if required may be made to ran 5 or 10 years with once winding, as well as one, and I feel confirmed in the impression (from a careful examination) that they are destined to supersede all other Clocks and timekeepers now in use. It is in fact the nearest approach to per petual motion that I have seen, requiring a motive power equal to only 7 pounds of weight for one year. The great improvement in the Time Part consists principally in the Escapement, which may be called a Frictionless Escapement, and in the Regulating Motion, which may be called a Rotary or Torsion Pendulum. The Ball is four and a half inches in diameter -- of a globular form and hollow, and suspended by a steel spring; near the upper end of the spring is an arm in the form of a Crank; the revolving of the ball twists the spring, and causes the arm to form an arc, acting upon and receiving the impulse from the Swing-Wheel, by means of a lever connected with the Arm and the Pallets or Escapement; which impulse is carried through the Spring to the Ball, and keeps it in motion. The spring in a quiescent state is longest; by its being twisted either way from that state is shortened and the ball made to rise. returning by the re-action of the spring, and the force of gravity receiving the impulse from the maintaing power at

There is an irregularity existing in the common Pendu lum, by a loss of power arising from an increase of friction, thereby lessening the impulse given to it, and shortening the arc of its vibrations. If it measure true time in an arc of four degrees, it will gain ten seconds a day by vibrating in an arc of three degrees; so that by an increase of friction and loss of power, which is always the case, it will gain

Any difference of friction or maintaining power in this Clock, will not affect the time given by this Pendulum; its revolutions or vibrations are rendered perfectly isochrinal, by the influence that the torsion of the spring has in its reaction upon the force of gravity of the ball. The different degrees of temperature do not affect the time given by this pendulum. The time it would lose by the expansion of the spring in length, is accurately counteracted by the time it gains by its expansion in width and thickness; and the time it would lose by the expansion of the ball outward from its axis of motion, is accurately counteracted and compensated for by an adjustment inside the ball. The improvement in the striking part consists principally in the application of a Rotary Hammer. Each part of this Clock is driven by a spring equal to seven pounds of weight, for about fifty-four wasks, with once winding up.

The advantages are that very little care is required in setting up the clock, in consequence of its not being liable to be put out of beat. It requires no oil on the pallets or teeth of the swing-wheel, there being no friction between them, and the number of the revolutions of the swing-wheel are sixty times les, or in other words is sixty years in making as clock does in one year. And it requires more than fifty times | 111 discount. less maintaining power; consequently a very large amount less of friction and wear, than in other clocks; and therefore the motion much more regular. It will run one year with once winding up; is silent, other than striking the hour; is simple, easily adjusted and regulated; and when so, the time will not be altered, as in other clocks, by the difference of temperature, the density of the air, or by an increase of friction, as it performs its movements always in the same or equal time, a desideratum in time-keeping which has long been sought, and next in importance to the first discovery of BOOTS AND SHOES AT WHOLESALE.—We call the attention of our readers to Mr. C. H. Carpenter's advertisement, and take much pleasure in so doing, for the uniform and long continued conse of advertising he has runshed, has rendered his establishment, called the Boston Boot and Shoe Warehouse, and in every specific to make the stage of the kind equal in every respect to the most extensive stores of the kind to the city.

SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA.—Fever is one of the most frequent and dangerous dise ses to which the human body is liable. Its first impression is upo, the nervous system, then the vessels of the skin become changed, producing dryness and burning heat. After this the general system is involved, and the patents that the attack unders relieved by autropriate heat. After this the general system is involved, and the pabent sinks beneath the attack, unless relieved by appropriate remedies. Noxious effluvia and various miasins are the cause of fever, being infused throughout the atmosphere and then breathed into the lungs, when the poison combines with the impare fluids of the body and is carried by the circulating organs to the remote ramifications of the system. If, then, the animal frame is kept in a perfect, sound and healthy state, and every organ performing its functions properly there can be no
union of the predisposing cause, which is the noxions effluvia of marsh miasm, with the exciting, which is an impure state of the blood and deprayed condition of the general constitution, and consequently no disease.

For conclusive evidence of its superior value and efficacy, see certificates published in this and other city papers.

One of the most common questions asked at the pre-ent day when one friend meets another, is, What's the news? and the answer frequently is, Nothing new. But we think that we have some news to state to the public in reference to the effects of Dr. Covert's Balsam of Life upon persons la-boring under diseases of the Lungs, Windpipe and Dysperboring under diseases of the Lungs, Windpiffs and Dyspersia. There are a number of persons in this city who were given up by their Physicians, who have recovered by the use of this invaluable remedy; and we now say that Dr. Covert's Balm of Life is a cure for Coughs, Colds, Colds, Consumption, Dyspersta, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croop, Whooping-Cough, &c, if used in season and according to directions. Of this all may be satisfied who will take the pains to examine our testimonials. We also recommend Dr. Fleming's Medicated Worm and Diarrhos Candies—the most certain, safe and speedy cure for those complaints of any other articles now in use. Sir-It is due to you, and may be of service to the public, to say that I have for some time past been using your 'Anti-Dyspeptic and Restrative Cordial' in my family, with the most beneficial results. My wife, who has suffered from various dispeptic symptoms, wasting in strength and appetite, has found great advantage from its use, and ascribes to its admirable bracing effects a very decided general improvement in her health and spirits. I know not whether this 'estimony will serve you, but it is due to you that I should offer it.

How shall I Cure My Cough?—This question is no doubt daily asked by hundreds, who are suffering under severe cough and pain, in the chest and side, and who, if they were acquainted with the virtues of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, prepared at 375 Bowery, and would use it, would not ask the question a second time. The relief which it gives, is immediate and enduring; in fact, in the most desperate cases, it has acted in a most wonderful munner, and has rised many from the verge of the grave, and who have been pronounced past hope. The genuine has a splendid (see lighte) emgraved label around each bottle, with the signature of Dr. Gurdou J. Leeds attached, to prevent cough-rieits. This extraordinary work will have an immense sale, and b ead by EVERY PERSON IN AMERICA, if we may judge from he auxiety evinced to obtain copies of the first edition. So creat was the excitement in Paris last summer, that the reading public were thrown into general mourning and tears in consequence of a brain fever which attacked the author, and which, was for some time feared, would prove fatal, and thus for ever prevent the completion of the work. It is stated in the French papers that the celebrated DEVINE-BYSSE, Madamoiselle La Normand, who revealed to Napoleon to Josephine, and to Robespi-rre, their respective destinies, is said to have recently exclaimed, during her dying agonies, that er sole regret in death was, that she could not read the cou-

cluding numbers of the 'Mysteries of Paris.' In point of morality, the work 'is unceptionable. It inculcates, by some of its episodes, lessons of charity, forgiveness, and mercy, in strains more impressive and eloquent than an homily. Eugene Sur has all the wit and piquancy, with none of the vulgarity of Paul de Kock; and his pages are devoured with avidity by thousands who admire his brilliant most astonishing cures of diseases that are recorded in the anhals of history, thus proving conclusively it is capable of ful filling the high aim and purpose for which it is designed. Patients suffering for years from various chronic constitutional disorders, after trying different remedies, spending thousands of dollars in traveling and doctoring, and suffering all that human nature is capable of enduring, have, by the use of a few battles, entirely recovered their health. Chronic Rheumatism, Scrofula or King's Evil, Salt Rheum and Ringworm, Ulcers and painful affection of the bones, Ulcerated Throat and Nostrils, Scurvy, Biles, Chronic Sore Eyes, Blotches and various cutaneous eruptions, Glandular Enlargement, Hip Disease, &c. are effectually cured by its use. Diseases having their origin in an impure state of the blood and fluids generally will be speedily and effectually removed by this invaluable medicine as its operation is peculiar, and consists in removing the cause of disease by entering into the circulation and passing through the general system. Where obstructions to its favorable operation exist, they are removed as it passes along the alimentary canal; hence the patient will eel and know the sensible operation of the Sarsaparilla from

The proprietors are daily receiving from the medical profession, the clergy, officers of justice, and numerous private citizens, ample and willing testimony both written and verbal, to the superior value and efficacy of this preparation. Messes. Sands—Gent: about eight years since, by being overheated, and directly after exposed, I was seized with a severe cold, which deranged the whole system. Purple or livid spots appeared on the skin, attended with violent pain of the head; the symptoms being alarming, a physician was called who prescribed blistering and leaching, which produced partial relief. Hard bony lumps formed under the skin on various parts of the body, and the doctor pronounced my complaint hereditary Scrotula now for the first time developed. The following winter my sight fuiled in both eyes; medical aid was again resorted to, which relieved my sight during the aid was again resorted to, which relieved my sight during the summer; my nose now began to increase in size and the whole body rapidly enlarged with a dropsical swelling. The nose even grew very sore and discharged profusely the most loath-some substance. My whole system was involved in disease; the lumps softened and discharged freely, producing great debility;—ulcers now broke out on the legs, and to complete my misery, the muscles and sinews contracted so that I was ren-dered nearly helpless. I remained with little change in this condition until last October, when I was suddenly seized with an indescribable sensation which rendered me nearly uncon-scious, and my friends supposed it was the will of kind Pro-vidence to rid me of my sufferings, but from this I recovered only to suffer on; the ulcers had become one continuous sore was in this condition I commence the ase of your mable Sarsaparilla, which I was induced to use from the many remarkable cures I saw published. It came to me as some guardian angel; and I can carcely tell why yet, yet from the mornent I heard it mentioned I was impressed furly with the belief that this was to be the good Samaritan for me—and truly it has wrought wonders in my case. After using it a fruly it has wrought wonders in my case. After using the few days my pains grew easier, the swelling of the body and limbs went down, the ulcers commenced healing, and I rested well. After suffering every thing but the pains of death, how happy am I and how grateful do I feel to be able to add another testimonial to the efficacy of your priceless Sarsaparilla!

My health is restored, and I have walked four miles without inconvenience. I superintend my family affairs, and in fact feel almost like a being in a new world. I am induced to due to you as a means in the hands of God of restoring a fel-low mortal from a premature grave. Language is inadequate to express my feelings. May the Lord be with you, and make his face to shine upon you, is the sincere desire of your much obliged and deeply indebted friend. To the afflicted I would say, Do not despair, for however desperate your case may be, you surely have an antidote at hand, viz: SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA. Trust to no other, however great their pretensions.

If It was in this condition I commenced the use of your inval

MANSTIELD, Oct. 3d, 1843.

To R. W. MATHEWSON, Norwich:
Sir: For the list fifteen years I have been the subject of complicated disease—troubled with the dropsy and my nerves comple ely unstrung, with more or less of erysipelas, in connection with other bad humors. In May last my difficulties seemed to enrage and be more firmly seated; say head and face was so swollen that it appeared to me that the bones of my head had set arated one from the other, and completely disficured my face. I could scarcely breathe through my nose; my eyes were so affected that I could see but little, at the same time attended with an acute and indescribable pain constantly darting from the nose to other parts of the head and throat, which was badly swollen and very sore, and a constant burning heat or irritation of the stomach, with my limbs bloated to nearly twice their ordinary size. In this situation, for weeks I was compelled to lie upon one side, with but little or no sleep. My humors assumed a renewed and stubborn hold upon me, and appacently threatened a speedy dissolution. I tried every expedient possible, with but little or no benefit, My physician at length recommended Sands's Sarsaparilla; I procured a few bottles of it, which I believe to be the means (thro' the blessing of God) of my restoration to comparative health again. I had not taken but two or three bottles before my disease began to leave. My pain and swelling is gone, my appetite good, sleep and rest quietly; to me it has been a sovereign balm.

EUNICE CRANE.

Having been acquainted with the afflicted widow, Mrs. Ennice Crane, of Mansfield, for nearly six years, (whose protracted sickness has called forth the sympathies of the community where she resides) I consider it an occasion for joy that her sufferings have been so far alleviated by the nse of Sands's Sarsaparilla, which has been so kindly forwarded by yourself.
